

THE LETTER FROM THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
THE JOURNAL OF SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT IN AFRICA (JSDA)
WINTER 2022

My Dear Colleagues, Friends and Students of Development:

I am very delighted to bring you the latest Issue of the JSDA (JOURNAL OF SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT IN AFRICA). The subjects of sustainable development and sustainability have been gaining momentum since the publication of the Brundtland Report (OUR COMMON FUTURE) by the World Commission on Environment and Development in 1987. The United Nations efforts through the Millenium Development Goals MDGs (Millenium Development Goals)) and the Sustainable Development Goals have helped countries around the world to operationalize the concepts of Sustainable Devlopment and Sustainability. In 1999, the JSDA was set up to focus on the projection of Africa's perspectives on both subjects. I believe that under my guidance and the aid of the Managing Editor, Dr. Juan Ma, we have achieved this goal and we are building on the strengths and dedication of scholars around the world to achieve this goal.

In this Winter 2022 Issue, we are furthering the effort of informing the academic and professional communities about the innovative approaches to sustainable development and sustainability. The papers are eclectic in nature but address theoretical as well as applied aspects of sustainable development and sustainability. More papers will be added to this Issue as the papers clear the rigorous hurdles of the approval process.

Thank you for your readership.

Sincerely,

Valentine Udoh James, Ph.D.; CEI; CAQS
Professor of Environmental Management, Planning and Policy
Pennsylvania Western University, Clarion, USA